

Awareness
Education
Prevention

Substance Use Disorder Awareness, Education, and Prevention

Solutions to maintain a safe and productive workforce of any size

Employers strive to maintain a safe and productive workforce through awareness, education, and prevention. Implementing a successful on-going educational program has proven to be an essential component in achieving this goal.

Workforce Recovery Solutions provides Employers with evidence-based Substance Use Disorder (SUD) educational programs tailored for each organization and designed to increase employee awareness and offering solutions regarding the use of alcohol, opioids, marijuana and other drugs. These programs will increase productivity, reverse the effects of high absenteeism and attrition, increase profits, lower healthcare expenses, and protect your company's reputation.

The Let's Get Back to Work program focuses on educating the entire workforce on Substance Use Disorders.

Features and Benefits:

- In-person Strategic Work Sessions for managers and supervisors so that they know how to uncover patterns of Substance Use Disorder in the workforce
- Destigmatize SUD, allowing those individuals who need a clinical solution to do so anonymously and trustingly
- Create an overall awareness of SUD so that employees can now take both home and into their communities the healthy "seeds" for real change
- Empower employees and increase productivity and profits through greater and more innovative resources
- Re-ignite passion and purpose to drive the health/safety of corporate culture
- Lower potential legal and safety related issues stemming from SUD
- Personable narrated learning portals that are highly interactive to engage the employee
- Weekly audio SUD talks accessed from any computer, tablet, or smart phone.
- 24/7 access accommodates work, home or school schedules
- Motivational interviewing/coaching sessions

"Your presentation on Substance Use Disorders was packed with powerful information for our HR Managers and employees. We look forward to your quarterly Strategic Work Sessions."

Vice President,
HR
Bethesda, MD

"Your speaking program served as a valuable learning tool for our newly promoted supervisors by providing real life experiences. It will help us achieve our goal of having the best trained and most professional law enforcement personnel in the country."

Sherriff Gee,
Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office
Tampa, FL

Tom Woods and his team will tailor a Let's Get Back to Work™ program designed to seamlessly integrate with your current Drug-Free workplace program, delivering maximum impact and equipping your people with all the necessary tools.

Let's Get Back to Work™ provides your people with what they need to know – and do – in order to prevent disasters of workplace substance use disorders. The program builds meaningful, lasting solutions to enhance their professional effectiveness.

Author Tom Woods speaks to HR professionals and executives who want to protect their people, profits, and culture. Before it's too late!

"Tom has proven to be a professional who consistently delivers on his commitments and to the expectations of his clients. His energy and passion for his work is complimented by a positive, uplifting attitude. Tom understands substance use disorders and the inherent need for an entire organization to be "engaged" and create a safe work culture if true success is to be achieved."

Vice President,
HR
Rockville,
MD

"Very powerful presentation! You came across well spoken, experienced, confident, and most of all I felt like I wanted to hear more. I had no idea you were such a great inspirational speaker with such a powerful message to deliver."

CFO - Fortune 500
Company
Washington,
DC

Experts Who Speak

As educators and persons who have recovered from the disease of addiction, we understand that SUD in the workplace affects not only those with substance use issues, but also family members, fellow employees, and communities as a whole. The solution begins with understanding which is why WRS focuses on the entire workforce, educating employees so that they have the ability to take action. From there WRS takes a much more elaborate and comprehensive view through ongoing education to enable companies to protect their people, profits, and reputations. Here's where Let's Get Back to Work™ fits into what you're already doing:

How is working with Tom Woods different?

With over two decades of consulting, speaking and most importantly, real-life, in-the-trenches experience as an active addict and now a person in recovery, his view is radically different. Tom appreciates, and shares with listeners, compelling facts about substance use disorders and the disasters that arise in the workplace. Your employees aren't using your EAP's and it's costing you money and productivity. Your investment in Tom will pay off right away by arming your organization with the experience tested tools necessary to lift the "stigma" of substance use disorders and the damaging "ripple effect" it has with employee culture. Tom educates, engages and empowers his clients to avail themselves of the resources in place, creating a healthier, more productive culture.